

I don't think there is too much violence on TV, but I do think we allow our children to watch too much TV, and mostly adult content television. I do like that we have more and more stations that show only PG or less (violent) content. I believe the American public should realize that TV is not a good thing, and turn it off.